SURVEYING

CAF Survey has a team of professionals and operates survey field parties throughout Victoria, New South Wales and South Australia and brings with them over 30 years' experience.

CAF Survey utilise the latest technology including Global Positioning System units and fully robotic total stations. Integrated with the latest land development survey and computer aided drawing software, CAF provide sophisticated operating systems adding significant value to our clients in programme and cost savings.

Integration of our survey teams across other business departments provides our clients, contractors and team members with efficient execution of required works in an environment of open communication and understanding of information required.

CAF's integrated survey management system allows staff to be deployed to major projects with a level of efficiency that provides exceptional service and value for our clients. CAF Survey is dedicated to prompt response to clients, contractors and service across the business unit.
